Around for over 20 years, Super Science Saturday is a free annual community event that ignites curiosity, fosters creativity, and nurtures a passion for science, inspiring the next generation of scientists and researchers. Friends of the National Center is seeking sponsors for Super Science Saturday to help us expand the beloved event and continue to broaden access to families we serve.

Sponsoring Super Science Saturday offers your company the opportunity to showcase your commitment to nurturing young talent and inspire future scientists, engineers, and technologists to nearly 2,000 participants.

By investing in events like Super Science Saturday that promote hands-on learning, exploration, and discovery, companies empower students to pursue their interests in STEM fields and embark on pathways to scientific discovery and innovation.

Sponsoring companies also get the opportunity for employee engagement through event volunteer opportunities.
